62

With a volume similar to a much bigger yacht, this large passagemaker has enough space for a crew. This is useful if you plan on entertaining, or just need the captain to look after the boat while you're out of town.

A satin wax finished wood, leather and elegant textiles make for a stylish interior and exterior, designed by the experts at Nauta Design. The midship owner's suite, makes clever use of the maximum beam, so that you really feel like you are staying in a hotel suite.

Like the Swift 44, the 62 can move quickly for a displacement motoryacht — 20 plus knots with twin MAN 730hp diesels. Optimum cruising speed is 12 knots but, at an efficient 9 knots, the trawler has a range of 1,000 kilometres.

The first Beneteau Grand Trawler 62 is now in Asia and is available for purchase at E2,335,000. Contact Simpson Marine on 2555 8377 or email beneteau@simpsonmarine.com to arrange a viewing.

and has a hull beam of over 5 meters (16'5"). Designed to accommodate six to eight people (plus crew), the boat has a 31-square-metre saloon, a spacious 14-square-meter owner's suite and an expansive flybridge — one of the biggest in the market at 34 square meters.

The interior is spacious and well appointed. The galley can be completely enclosed while the VIP guest cabin in the bow has lots of headroom allowing you to feel like you are in a hotel suite!

The Grand Trawler 62 is the result of Beneteau's collaboration with Massimo Gino (Nauta Design) and Amedeo Migali (MICAD) and capitalises on the Swift Trawler range of practical, spacious boats capable of long distance cruising. Regular readers of Fragrant Harbour will remember the Swift 44 which appeared on our Number 294 cover — the 62 incorporates many of its best features.

The Grand Trawler 62 has a displacement hull, designed for efficient offshore boating and stability. The trawler is 18.95 meters long (62')
